

(Thank You)3 for that introduction What an honor it is to be here in District 36 speaking at your fall conference

< Call out names from D36 >

- Pam Copeland
- Fritzie Leroy
- John Kinsman
- Aref Dajani
- Susan Elsworth

(Slap)2 + (Clap)2 + (Click)2
I like people who ____.

Example: "I like people who acknowledge the genius that's gone before us. Kudos to the late-great Charles Schulz."

These images are my re-creation of his gang - the Peanuts gang. And since I'm using these in an educational session — for which I'm not being paid — I do believe that I'm working within the fair use clause of US Copyright Law.

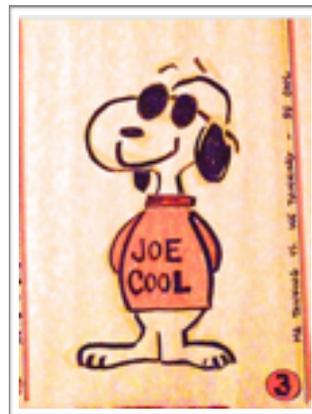

Okay, okay ... Perhaps you've met someone new or learned something new about an old friend ... And we created space for each other for experiential learning.

"We learn best during moments of enjoyment, yes?"

< Time Line Exercise >

< Process via Q&A >

You're a good man,
Charlie Brown!

HERO or GOAT

Emotional Intelligence == >
Self Aware + Aware of Others

"IQ + EQ = Success"

< Optional Exercise: Create a list of good books to read and share w/ friends. >

ME thinking vs. WE thinking

< Share Gang Signs >

And then there's SNOOPY ...

- World War I flying ace
- Joe Cool
- Brother of Spike from Needles, California

< Explain Situational Leadership >

Dan-an-jay-a Het-tia-rach-chi
"I see something"

Dan-an-jay-a Het-tia-rach-chi
youtu.be/bbz2boNSeL0

Yes, as Steve Jobs suggested in his commencement address at Stanford University: "Stay Hungry." Stay Focused on Your Goals and Be Aware that YOU are not alone.

Stay Humble = Live and act in the spirit of AGATSU

Think like a champion. Climb that mountain. Focus on what you can control. Don't be afraid to ask for help for most significant achievements are truly the result of WE thinking.

Good luck!